'Car for sale' robbery gang strikes again

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

TWO men have been robbed of several thousand pounds after going to buy a car advertised online – in what is the second robbery of its kind in ten days.

The victims had travelled to Luton from London on Thursday night to view a BMW 320 they had spotted advertised on a website.

They had agreed to meet the 'seller' in Lawn Gardens, Luton at around 8.25pm.

But when the buyers arrived in their Lexus car they were approached by three men who opened the door and threatened them with what appeared to be a handgun.

The would-be buyers handed over a large amount of money which they had intended to use to purchase the car.

After taking the money the robbers then fled along a nearby alleyway.

Bedfordshire Police have said they are linking the robbery to a similar incident which happened in Crescent Rise on June 17.

On that occasion, three men had travelled to the town from High Wycombe on June 17 to view a BMW 320 they had also seen online.

On arrival they were robbed at gunpoint of a large sum of money by two men.

Police have said the criminals in Thursday's robbery were black males who were wearing dark jackets with hoods pulled up and their faces covered with scarves.

One of the them had a beard while the armed offender was described as being in his late 20s, lighter colour skin than the other offenders and around 5ft 6ins tall.

The men in the earlier Crescent Rise robbery are also described as being black.

The first suspect – who was armed – was a black male, said to be between 25 and 35-years-old, around 5ft 7ins tall, slim build and with a receding hairline.

He wore a dark-coloured hooded top – possibly purple – with dark blue jeans.

The second suspect was in his mid-30s, around 6ft tall, of large build and also with receding hair.

Detective Constable Thomas Hamm, who is investigating both robberies, said the police are keen to hear from anyone who may have witnessed either of the incidents.

He also warned people buying high value goods online to be wary.

He said: We are now dealing with two robberies where the offenders have used Gumtree to advertise a car that is supposedly for sale in an attempt to lure victims to Luton where they are then robbed.

"These have been terrifying ordeals for the victims who do not know the area and genuinely thought that they were simply buying a car.

"Instead they were threatened with firearms and thought that they would be seriously harmed if they did not hand over the cash that they were carrying.

"I would urge anyone who may have witnessed either of these robberies or knows who has been committing these offences to get in touch as quickly as possible."

New police crackdown planned in High Town

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

AN application to use a six-month dispersal order to crack-down on anti-social behaviour in High Town has been made by Bedfordshire Police.

The request is set to be discussed at a Luton council meeting tomorrow night. If accepted officers will be given the power to break up large groups of people and move them on, as well sending individuals under-16 home between 9pm-6am.

The application follows a petition with 2,000 signatures submitted by High Town residents earlier this year. They had expressed a vote of no confidence in how councillors in their ward were tackling kerb-crawling.

A report due to be presented tomorrow noted that 610 incidents of anti-social behaviour had been recorded between March 1, 2012-May 13, 2013.

It also said the situation was causing residents to feel 'intimidated' and 'scared', with some 'losing sleep' and unable to use public spaces.

Shazad Khadam, a shop owner in High Town who has been campaigning against kerb-crawling, said he welcomed the application but felt that 'zero tolerance' was the solution.

He said: "They need to take a zero tolerance approach and I understand they have to do certain things at certain times but it's been going on for too long."

"They need to maintain the pressure so that these people know that if they break the law they will be dealt with."

He added: "The people of High Town want to be able to sleep at night and not worry that their kids are going to be hassled or see certain things.

"We want them to sympathise with us and not the criminals."

"Our main concern is that we have been forgotten for a long time."

Councillor Naseem Ayub said the authority was doing 'absolutely everything' in its power to deal with the problem.

She added: "We are fully aware of the issues and have complete and total sympathy for residents who are suffering at the moment."

"What they are having to put up with at the moment is unacceptable. The crime of kerb crawling and paying for sex is, of course, primarily an issue for the police but it is a very complex issue requiring a committed partnership working over a period of time."

TRIBUTE TO CLLR DENISE GREEN

SOUTH West Bedfordshire MP Andrew Selous has paid tribute to Dunstable councillor Denise Green, who died this week.

Mr Selous said: "It is with great sadness that I have to announce the sad and untimely death of my constituency secretary Denise Green."

"Prior to working as my constituency secretary Denise worked as the secretary for South West Bedfordshire Conservatives."

"Denise was a very kind and caring person who always went out of her way to help and look after other people."

"I am greatly saddened by her death and send my deepest condolences to her family and friends."

VAN MAN TRIES TO GRAB BOY, 12

POLICE are asking the public to be vigilant after a 12-year-old boy reported that a man in a white van tried to grab him.

The incident happened at around 5.30pm on Wednesday, in Austin Road, Luton, when a large white van pulled up next to him and the passenger in the vehicle shouted to the boy asking if he wanted some sweets.

The man then tried to grab the boy's arm before he managed to run away from the scene.

Anyone with information about the incident can contact DS Gemma Ebberson at Luton Police Station, on 01582 394477.

Alternatively contact Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

Cuts campaigner 'delighted' with No. 11 visit

A LUTON woman has vowed to carry on campaigning against cuts to social care after handing in a petition to Downing Street.

Wheelchair bound Angela Murray, 28, made the trip to Number 11 - the home of Chancellor George Osborne - on Monday to deliver her online petition which has received more than 46,000 signatures.

She said: "Even though the petition has been handed in, it doesn't feel like this is the end."

"This could be the start of being involved in raising awareness about the kinds of support people need, and the real impact the cuts have."

Angela added that she was delighted with the Chancellor's decision to allocate an extra £3 billion to social care in his spending review, which was revealed on Thursday.

She said: "I do think that the petition that was handed in on Monday, could have influenced the final decision that was made public later in the week."

"It is a great start and I am delighted, but there is so much more that could and should be done."

CAMPAIGN: Angela handed her petition in at No. 11 Downing Street

Police release CCTV footage of stabbing

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

POLICE have released CCTV film which shows the horrific moments that a 59-year-old man became the victim of a stabbing attack.

The film was revealed as officers made an appeal for witnesses in Mersey Place, Luton, the scene of the attack which happened at 3.20pm on Wednesday, June 19.

The video shows the victim's car stopping and the victim putting the hood up on the grey Saab convertible to change his tyre.

Shortly after this the man is approached by two men who stab him several times to his buttocks and legs in quick succession.

The full video can be seen by visiting www.luton-dunstable.co.uk.

Following the incident, the victim managed to get to the doctor's surgery in Liverpool Street for help and was taken to the Luton and Dunstable Hospital where he underwent surgery. He is now at home recovering from his ordeal.

On Wednesday, officers revisited the area in an effort to find key witnesses and gather further information.

Investigating officer, Detective Sergeant Katie Dounias, said: "We have been speaking to passers-by in the hope that someone will remember seeing two men acting suspiciously in the area or the incident itself.

"We are also still seeking information relating to a dog walker who spoke to the victim shortly after the incident.

"This person is described as a white man with an unkempt appearance, possibly mixed race, and had a small light-coloured, possibly bull terrier-type dog with him.

"This man stood very close to the scene and spoke to the victim shortly after the assault."

Five people have been arrested by police.

One person has been released without charge, and four have been released on bail pending further police enquiries.

Anyone with information relating to this incident can contact DS Katie Dounias, in confidence, at Luton Police Station on 01582 394085, or Bedfordshire Police on 101.

APPEAL: Police officers returned to the scene of the stabbing this week to speak to residents and hand out leaflets

Five from EEAST decide to resign

PUBLIC pressure on the region's ambulance service was at boiling point this week as a wave of resignations hit the struggling provider.

The future of the East of England Ambulance Service (EEAST) is hanging in the balance after all five non-executive directors quit in just two days.

It follows more than a week of tense talks in Westminster as MPs across the region called for the board representatives to step down in the face of not one but two damning reports about the trust's failing performance.

First to leave was Caroline Bailes whose departure was announced during a public meeting of the board held at Bedford Heights on Wednesday.

She was shortly followed by Margaret Stockham on Thursday and Paul Remington, Anne Osborn, and Phil Barlow on Friday morning.

A statement from the ambulance service said that the trust was 'drawing a line in the sand' following the resignation of all the remaining non-executive directors.

Dr Geoff Harris, who has only been chairman of the trust for around four weeks, said: "I thank the non-executive directors for their collective action.

"We must maintain our focus on continuing to drive up the service to patients whilst I focus on putting a new Board in place."

New facilities for disabled children

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

PARENTS of disabled children in Central Bedfordshire are playing a key role in a project to bring an innovative new Disability Hub to Dunstable.

The idea of the South Hub is to bring a range of support and services for disabled children and their families under one roof, making it much easier for them to access the help they need, when they need it.

Having everything in one place also has the advantage of reducing the need for families to make disruptive and time-consuming journeys to access different services.

Work has recently begun on the Hub, which is located on the same site as the existing Downside Children's Centre and St Augustine's Academy Lower School, in the Downside area of Dunstable.

To make sure that the project is a success the council has been working with parents, and members of SNAP (Special Needs Action Panel).

EXCITED: Councillors, parents and members of SNAP get to work on the new Disability Hub

This ensures that the views of all involved are heard, and are used to shape the facilities and services the hub can provide. Cllr Amanda Dodwell, deputy executive member for Children's Services, said: "It's great to see that work has begun on the new Disability Hub in Dunstable."

"We are committed to working together with professionals and families to improve things for our disabled children and their families.

"We know there's lots of work to do but our hope is that by having a facility like this, we can make a real difference."

The South Hub is expected to be fully operational and welcoming families by early October 2013.

- Do you think that the Disability Hub is a good idea? Let us know.

Company boss fined after death of boy

BY SOPHIE SCOTT
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE boss of KD Childs Stonework has been fined £7,500 after his company installed a fireplace which fell on and killed a child.

Kristian Childs, 42, of Chestnut Avenue, Luton, was sentenced on Wednesday following the death of Matthew Green in October 2008.

The four-year-old boy was in the living room of his home in Coulthard Close, Towcester, when the 47kg mantel from the fireplace fell on him.

He was airlifted to Northampton General Hospital but died from a chest injury.

A subsequent investigation by the Health and Safety Executive (HSE), which brought the prosecution, found that Childs had secured the mantel with small patches of mortar rather than mechanical fixings.

After the incident, house-builder Persimmon Homes, who sub-contracted Childs, found 21 fireplaces, of the 1,600 his company installed, were 'defective'.

FINED: Kristian Childs

Childs was aware that two other fireplaces he had installed before the Green's were found to be insecure.

Mark Harris, in mitigation, said: "Mr Childs wishes to make it very clear that he sincerely regrets that this incident occurred and that Matthew Green tragically died as a result of failings.

"He offers his unreserved and sincere apologies to Mr and Mrs Green and to their family and friends."

Childs, 42, pleaded guilty to breaching Section 3(1) of the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 last April.

Judge Rupert Mayo, at Northampton Crown Court, told Childs he must pay a fine of £7,500, costs of £2,500 and a £15 victim surcharge.

He said: "I make it perfectly clear that any fine cannot, and is not, a measure of the life of Matthew Green.

"To anyone who knew him his life was perfectly beyond value. I have to have regard to this defendant's available income."

Matthew's mother, Gail Green, said: "Losing Matthew was devastating. We urge anyone involved with the installation of fireplaces to learn from what happened to our precious son and take steps to ensure that they take the time and trouble to fit them properly.

"If they don't then Matthew's death will have been in vain."

Chancellor's cuts to impact council

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

LUTON council says that it will need to save an extra £2m in 2015/16, following decisions made in the Chancellor's spending review earlier this week.

The authority has revealed that the extra cash will have to be found, following a 10 per cent reduction in the primary grants and share of business rates income, announced by George Osborne on Wednesday.

The Chancellor has also proposed that the budget for councils' school support services should be cut by £200m in the coming years, which would see Luton's current grant drop by around 20 per cent.

More positively, the review mentioned the possibility of pooling sums of money between the National Health Service and local government to deal with social care issues.

However, it is not yet clear how these funds would be shared, and how much the authority could be in line to receive.

A spokesman for Luton Borough Council said: "The reductions will add £2m to the savings needed for 2015/16 in our medium term plan.

"We need much more detail on how the social care funding will be allocated, and what outcomes will be expected from that funding, before we can assess the overall impact on Luton."

- Will this latest spending review prove to be a cut too far for the town? Let us know.

DEBATE: MP Kelvin Hopkins (second right) makes a stand

'Austerity' bus wins support from MP

AN 'Austerity Bus' rolled into Luton on Wednesday, to find out how recent changes in government policy have affected people.

The event, which was organised by the Trades Union Congress (TUC), formed part of a nationwide tour.

Luton North MP Kelvin Hopkins, who welcomed the bus to town, said: "I am really am concerned about the vulnerable and how cuts are affecting the elderly and children."

Joining the EU was a mistake

SIR – Amazing that Andrew Duff (Liberal) who receives loads of money, paid by us the taxpayers, for being an MEP, believes it is great to be a member of the EU.

For the average working man it is the worst thing that has happened in my life time.

Labour started the mass immigration which has not been stemmed by the present government.

Work is short for our own people. At least 500,000 new homes are needed.

Wages have been cut to the minimum so the ordinary working man with a family cannot live on the wages. Hospitals and doctors surgeries are struggling to cope.

This will not affect Andrew Duff but for the ordinary man anybody that votes Labour, Conservative or Liberal has got to be mad.

John Wortley,
Lovers Walk, Dunstable

Leave your gardens alone!

SIR – Driving along the New Bedford Road now makes my heart sink.

So many beautiful, established front gardens being dug up to leave not one blade of grass.

The road is starting to resemble a giant car park. A good deal of front gardens have disappeared under concrete.

I appreciate people may need somewhere to park, however, most of these houses have huge frontages with room for cars.

I just don't understand the desire to render gardens into a sterile, cold parking lot.

In Luton, our front and back gardens account for 70 per cent of the greenery of the whole town.

We suffer huge pollution in Luton due to our proximity to the M1, a larger than national average car use and the airport.

I wish the home owners along the Old Bedford Road would exercise the enormous passion they found to protect the field at Barnfield from development when considering digging up their gardens.

Of course, property owners are free to do as they wish with their land, but please do though spare a thought for your own health, that of future generations and the town.

This planet doesn't belong to us, we are merely custodians. We should all be doing our bit to help.

H. Cotter,

Workshop project approved

SIR – I'm afraid we must point out a factual error in Steve Lowe's column in Luton on Sunday, June 23. Steve stated that the Marsh Farm Outreach Organisation Workshop project was 'eventually refused'. I'm afraid you are in error. The project was finally approved by officers at DCLG.

Twitter - threat to council jobs

@LutonLibDem: Another stupid, short-sighted Labour cut degrades Luton.

@mattfrog: What should be cut instead? What choice do they have?

£180k for car park changes

@collyeates: What a waste of money. We'll all be using the guided busway – won't we?

@BedsChamberInfo: Well done! We love the Discovery Centre.

Britain should leave the EU

SIR – For the past few weeks there have been comments in Luton on Sunday which imply that there are advantages in Britain remaining in the EU.

The prohibitive cost of Britain's membership of the EU, its interference in our laws, unrestricted immigration, causing high unemployment and its negative impact on our trade with the rest of the world are well known arguments for withdrawal.

Our politicians, with one eye on the prospect of lucrative jobs on retiring from British political life, will argue that the EU is fine or that it can change.

However it was set up as a restrictive trading cartel (mainly to subsidise French farmers) and is completely at odds with the way Britain trades. This will show why Britain's trade is in deficit with the EU, but in surplus with the rest of the world.

Britain needs to copy those successful nations who oppose trade restrictions and leave the trading cartel that will need more than a Free Trade Agreement with America if it is to avoid its final and tragic collapse.

Charles Lawman,
UKIP Luton Branch Chairman

Angela is an inspiration

SIR – It is wonderful to see Angela Murray deliver her petition to Downing Street.

Well done to her for standing up for her right to a bit of dignity and freedom.

I appreciate that cuts have to be made – but surely these cuts should not force someone

MANY of the institutions that underpin our democracy are failing. But, much more worryingly, the checks and balances that are supposed to hold these institutions to account are failing.

The NHS is a patchwork quilt. Where it is good, it is very good but where it is bad it is awful. Yet the various agencies and management boards that are supposed to monitor the NHS and hold it to account are failing to do their job.

The same applies to the police force. Whether it be Hillsborough or the Stephen Lawrence murder, or many other such examples, bad practice has been rife in parts of the force. Yet much of this has not been picked up and/or overlooked.

I can remember being harassed by the police in the 1980s for supporting such wild, fringe groups as the Anti-Apartheid movement. On the surface we were harassed and asked to move on whenever and wherever we were picketing or leafletting or whatever. The Thatcher Government of the time, the one that considered Mandela a terrorist and Pinochet a friend, brought in a new law to prevent more than ten people congregating in one place at one time, to hamper peaceful protest.

It was also relatively common for plain clothes police officers to infiltrate our meetings, no doubt to ascertain our intentions to overthrow the state.

But the question is: Who watches the watchdogs?

It was considered par for the course, as the police had been politicised to be less the upholders of law and order but more the defenders of a slightly dodgy capitalist system. And it seems for some, the world has not moved on and Life on Mars is still the reality in some parts of the force. And there is no proper accountability.

It has been suggested that in future any covert action, of the kind apparently taken against the family of Stephen Lawrence, should first gain court approval.

That bastion of working people's sense of justice will hardly ease our minds. In Parliament the expenses scandal is accepted, if at all, very grudgingly by most MPs.

Still attempts are being made to circumvent the new rules, as though they hardly matter. And, of course, the press has not been immune.

Parts of the press behaved very badly and broke standards, rules, and laws.

Yet the upholders and defenders of these standards and rules did little or nothing to prevent or expose these failings and crimes.

So we have an inquiry, led by a judge, which, despite months of hearing, seems to be going nowhere.

What is lacking in this society is the belief that when an organ of the state, or an institution there to uphold democracy, fails, redress can be sought by the countless watchdogs there to do just that.

Part of the problem is that ordinary people were, in the main, removed from any such watchdogs, boards, committees etc, to be replaced by professionals.

Professionals have a different view: they are paid and are part of the system, not outside it.

At a local level, people still come to us for help, and if we can we will support those treated badly and unjustly by the organs of the state.

But that is not the whole solution, as people should expect, and receive, proper resolution to their complaints and should expect to be treated decently by those allegedly helping them.

The only alternatives become protesting on the street and whistleblowers.

If we have to uphold our rights in this way, what's the point of democracy?

CHARITABLE: The team from Domino's took part in the run

Runners raise funds in charity challenge

MORE than £30,000 has been raised for good causes, thanks to generous runners who took part in a new event. Local people, including employees from Domino's stores in Luton, donned their trainers to take part in the Runday challenge at the Luton Hoo estate last weekend.

The event was organised by Tri For Life, and the funds will be shared between charities including Rays of Sunshine, Great Ormond Street and Whizz-Kids.

Homeless to get help with project

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

HOMELESS young people in the town could benefit from psychological therapy after a new project received more than £280,000 in funding.

Mental Health for Homeless Youth, run in partnership with Luton Community Housing, Mary Seacole Housing Association, and Signposts will provide cognitive behavioural therapy to those who need it.

The scheme was launched with the help of the University of Bedfordshire and works as a one-to-one treatment designed to improve mental health and wellbeing.

It also aims to address problems such as substance misuse, anti-social behaviour and self-damaging attitudes.

Last week, the two-year project was given the go-ahead after being selected as one of four programmes to be supported by The Big Lottery Fund's £1,091,350 South East Reaching Community plan.

Dr Antigonos Sochos, a senior lecturer in developmental and mental health psychology at the university, designed the new service.

He said he hoped the project would be expanded if it proved to be a success.

He said: "This is a serious problem not only in Luton, but also in the national and international arenas.

"If our research presents empirical evidence that the intervention works we may be able to receive further funding and expand the whole service."

Picnic in the Park is huge success

MORE than 3,500 people flocked to Wardown Park on Wednesday to join in the fun at Picnic in the Park 2013, which was officially opened by the newly appointed Mayor of Luton, Councillor Sheila Roden.

This year's theme was healthy teeth and lifestyles, with children and parents queuing at the Department of Health unit to 'show the dentist their smile'. It also helped young children to become familiar with attending a dentist in a fun way.

Youngsters had a fantastic

THIS year's Picnic in the Park event was the best attended yet! Our reporter, LAUREN ARCHELL (who is a big kid!) popped down to Wardown Park to find out what was on offer for children, parents, and carers time taking part in the challenge of finding pictures of a toothbrush, toothpaste and a smiley tooth at selected stalls, and received a free toothbrush, timer and a teeth cleaning chart from the friendly Toothbrush Man and Tooth Fairy.

There were plenty of other fun activities specifically designed for the under-fives including craft activities, face painting, bouncy castles and slides, an obstacle course, story time and kid's theatre.

Several youngsters took part in a session of Action Kids which involved singing, blowing bubbles and doing the hokey cokey. Little hands (and feet!) were also able to get behind the wheels of a fire engine and ambulance. It wasn't just about the under-fives – parents and carers had the chance to visit a variety of information stalls picking up useful tips and advice about healthy eating and oral health, fire and home safety, fostering opportunities and road safety.

Visitors were also able to meet a number of childcare providers and find out about the family support services available in the town.

Luton's Mayor, Cllr Sheila Roden, who opened Picnic in the Park, said: "It was great to see so many families from different communities all having a fantastic time at Picnic in the Park."

"There was a wide range of activities and entertainment for the children and lots of professionals on hand to provide essential information

CHEERS: The Winston Churchill is set to be transformed

Vacant pub due to become restaurant

A MAJOR makeover for a former pub in Dunstable is one step closer after planning permission was approved.

The forlorn Winston Churchill on Church Street, which has stood vacant for some time, is due to be transformed into a restaurant which will cater for up to 200 people.

A design statement accompanying the application says: "The proposed changes to the front of the building will improve the appearance of the property and will help to regenerate the area."

Shops to become affordable homes

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

VACANT shops and office units in Luton's town centre will be transformed into affordable homes for families in need thanks to a £600k Government grant.

The funding follows a successful joint bid to the Homes and Community Agency (HCA) from Omega Housing, Aldwyck Housing Association and Luton Borough Council.

The organisations will now work together to bring the derelict properties back into use.

Once completed, 30 families will come off the housing waiting list and move into the homes. The funding is part of a national HCA scheme which aims to bring back into use over 6,000 empty homes and commercial premises.

Councillor Tom Shaw, said: "This is fantastic news.

"These properties have been a real eyesore for the area, so I am pleased to have worked with both Omega and Aldwyck to make this happen.

"Empty homes are not only a wasted resource and a financial burden, but also attract crime, arson, and vandalism."

Communities Minister, Don Foster, added: "The Government is doing everything to tackle the problem of urban blight.

"We have already made very good progress but with thousands of people in this country desperate to buy a home and areas still suffering problems, we must go further still."

- Which empty properties do you think should be transformed? Let us know.

Final countdown to town's boxing event

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

THERE is less than a week to go until St George's Square is transformed into a boxing ring for the town's first open air exhibition.

On Saturday, July 6 a purpose-built arena, with a 40ft roof cover and tiered seating, will be constructed to give all guests a great view of the ring. In addition, the complex will also have three changing villages for all taking part, a licensed bar and catering.

The event has been organised by Love Luton in conjunction with the local amateur boxing clubs Hockwell Ring, Lewsey, Dallow, Academy Luton, Strike 06 and Luton Boys.

It has also been confirmed that champion local boxers Billy Schwer and Graham Earl will be attending the event to lend support and help celebrate the town's long standing boxing heritage.

On the day, the gates will open at 4pm with the first bouts taking place between 4.30pm and 7pm.

At 7.30pm, an awards ceremony will take place to honour local heroes and

PREPARING: A young boxer gets in some final practice before the open air boxing event in St George's Square next weekend talented individuals.

The award categories include, The Love Luton Junior Boxer Award, The Alan Baptiste Senior Boxer Award, The Brian Noblett Award for Outstanding Commitment to Boxing, The Graham Earl Award for most active Boxer in Luton and The Billy Schwer Award for Sportsmanship.

To see those who have been shortlisted for the awards, visit www.luton-dunstable.co.uk.

The winners will be announced on the night.

Following the ceremony, the boxing will reconvene at 8pm.

Limited numbers of tickets are available, so family and friends are encouraged to secure their space early.

Tickets cost £11 and can be purchased by visiting www.events Luton.com or calling 01582 547474.

EMPLOYMENT LAW

UNFAIR DISMISSAL | DISCRIMINATION | UNAUTHORISED DEDUCTIONS

Unfair Dismissal

For a dismissal to be fair, it must be for one of five potentially fair reasons, the employer must follow a fair procedure, and the decision to dismiss must be within the range of reasonable responses open to an employer in the circumstances. If you consider that your dismissal was unfair and you have at least one or two years' continuous service with your employer, you may have a claim for unfair dismissal. This claim must be brought within three months of the effective date of termination; this time limit will rarely be extended therefore, you should seek legal advice promptly. Please note that in some instances a dismissal can be automatically unfair irrespective of the employee not meeting the service requirement.

Discrimination

It is potentially unlawful to discriminate in relation to age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage or civil partnership, pregnancy or maternity, race, religion, or belief, sex or sexual orientation. Discrimination can take the form of direct discrimination, indirect discrimination, harassment, victimisation and instructing, causing, inducing and helping discrimination. Protection can extend beyond employees; for instance, job applicants are also protected. The legal principles behind discrimination law can be complicated therefore, if you feel that you are being discriminated against by your employer or someone else at work, you should seek legal advice as soon as possible. In the meantime, you are encouraged to keep a record of all the incidents which you perceive to amount to discrimination.

Unauthorised Deductions

It is unlawful for an employer to make a deduction from a worker's wages unless the deduction is required or authorised by law or the worker's contract; or the worker has given prior written consent to the deduction. This protection applies to all workers, i.e., not just employees and covers payments made to employers.

If you suspect that you have not been paid money owing to you by your employer or you have been forced to make a payment to your employer and there is no good reason for this, you should seek advice immediately. A claim for unauthorised deductions must be brought within three months beginning with the date of payment of the wages from which the deduction/payment was made.

At Premier Solicitors, we understand that being in work can bring with it a range of frustrations and questions. We can be there to help you through these difficult times.

We pride ourselves on our extensive knowledge of employment law together with the ability to deliver high quality customer service. We can guarantee that you will always receive effective advice which will be delivered to you in plain English and within a time scale to suit you. If you are having a difficult time at work, have been dismissed or you have resigned in response to unresolved issues at work, we encourage you to arrange a meeting with one of our qualified solicitors.

At this meeting, we would seek to understand your circumstances and advise you on what we consider your next steps should be. We will give you the confidence you need to deal with your employment issues or alternatively, take all of the pressure off you and deal with them on your behalf.

We can offer an initial consultation meeting for a fixed fee of £75 plus VAT. If you need any assistance after this meeting, we will ensure that it is clear from the outset how much this will cost you. In some instances, we can also offer our support on a "no win, no fee" basis.

Contact us on 01582 879090 or by email on info@premiersolicitors.co.uk to learn more about what we can do to help you.

Have you been given a Compromise or Settlement Agreement? If you have answered YES to any of the above questions, you need impartial employment law advice as soon as possible.

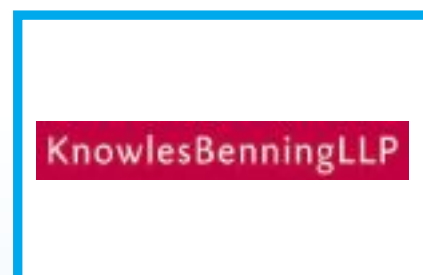

My name is Mike Powell and I'm a Hertfordshire-based specialist employment lawyer working for Scott-Moncrieff, a leading UK law firm. If you have an employment problem, I can help. I can advise on a wide range of employment issues, including constructive and unfair dismissal; redundancy; negotiating a Compromise or Settlement agreement; pregnancy and maternity rights; discrimination by age, disability; race, sex or sexual orientation; disciplinary and grievance proceedings; changes to your terms and conditions.

For a FREE no-obligation conversation, call 01462 418629.

I will explain the issues you need to consider and where possible, give you an initial assessment of your chances for success, the potential value of any claim and a realistic estimate of the likely costs. Knowles Benning Solicitors have offices in Dunstable, Luton and Shefford.

Have you been made redundant, unfairly dismissed, or forced out by your employer? Strange as it might seem, your rights might not always be as obvious as you might think.

We act for both Employers and Employees and can advise and explain in plain straight forward English what your rights are and how you can use them to your advantage. We specialise in giving sensible, timely, practical advice when you need it, to help you choose the best course of action going forward.

In the current economic climate compromise agreements are increasingly used to settle employment disputes and are one of the many areas of employment law we specialise in.

Employment law is a potential minefield for the inexperienced. As employees become more aware of their rights, and become increasingly prepared to seek legal redress, it is vital that employers stay abreast of developments.

We can apply extensive knowledge, skills and experience to help resolve the specific issues which you are facing, and provide as much or as little help as you require.

Mark Joseph reveals plans for a new album and tour

MUSIC

Mark Joseph

Interview by Sara Murray

LUTON-born and bred musician Mark Joseph is about set off on tour to promote his new album 'The In Between Effect'.

He will be appearing at venues in the county and surrounding areas including Bedford, Leighton Buzzard and Northampton.

We sent our reporter SARA MURRAY to find out more.

SM: So, tell me about your new album project?

MJ: The project involves me releasing my new album for 30 days only, which will really put the pressure on for people to buy it while it's there. The money raised will fund the record and a full UK tour later this year. I'll be starting off the tour with some free dates this month and next month, including a gig at Bedford Esquires.

SM: Where is your favourite place to perform?

MJ: Obviously it's wicked to come home and play gigs in Bedford and the surrounding areas. The tour is going all over the UK though. York is definitely a favourite place for me, I lived there for a while and met the missus there, so I always look forward to performing there.

SM: How would you say your new work differs from your old stuff?

MJ: I'd say that my new work is a much more mature sound. I've done some quite exciting things since the last album – I've got married and had two kids, so I've grown up a lot.

Anyone that loves the first album should love this as well. There's a lot of varied, upbeat stuff in there, as well as out-and-out ballads.

SM: When did you start writing songs?

MJ: I was about 13 when I first started song-writing, it began after I listened to the Oasis song Supersonic. That single is amazing, it totally blew me away and gave me the bug for music.

SM: What other artists inspire you?

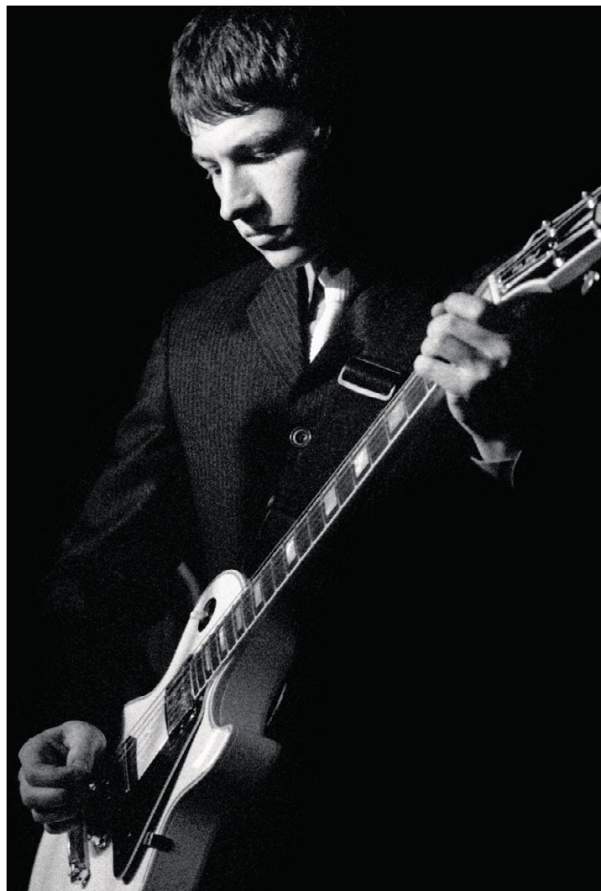

MJ: Oasis are definitely one of my main inspirations and they certainly were back in the day. I've been inspired by loads of artists, The Beatles, The Who, The Smiths, The Sex Pistols.

SM: What do you enjoy most about performing?

MJ: It's the atmosphere, definitely. Seeing the reaction you're getting from the people in the audience is what it's all about really. It's just such a pleasure to perform.

Mark's tour dates are as follows:

July 5 - Bedford (Esquires)
July 18 - Northampton (Black Bottom Club)
July 19 - York (The Stone Roses Bar)
July 20 - Boroughbridge (The Three Horse Shoes)
July 26 - Leighton Buzzard (Wheatshaf)

CRIME

Various Locations

July 3-July 31, Various Times

WHODUNIT fans unite! July is National Crime Writing Month and best-selling crime writers SJ Bolton, Williams Ryan, Penny Hancock, Fergus McNeill and Kate Rhodes will be lending a hand to mark the event.

Organised by the Crime Writers' Association, the event was launched in 2010 as Crime Writing Week, and has grown rapidly into a bigger celebration with over 100 events across the county planned for this year.

In various Central Bedfordshire Libraries there will be a series of exciting opportunities for readers to question crime writers and investigate the workings of the criminal mind.

Events will include a murder mystery event at Houghton Regis Library and several showings of crime films at Leighton Buzzard Theatre.

William Ryan will be at Biggleswade library, Fergus McNeill at Flitwick Library and Kate Rhodes/Penny Hancock at Houghton Regis Library and Dunstable Library.

Councillor Brian Spurr said: "We've got a fantastic selection of authors lined up alongside a variety of crime films for Crime Month."

"Also, there are two Murder Mystery events on July 5 and July 12 which include a special investigation featuring D.I. Vera Stanhope, Anne Cleeve's popular detective."

"Full details are on our Virtual library at www.centralbedfordshire.gov.uk/libraries. We would love to see you there."

Chocks away! Pageant takes flight in military display

AIR SHOW

Shuttleworth, Old Warden

Today
Gates open 9am, flying starts at 2pm

IF YOU'VE ever wondered just exactly what it is that keeps a lump of metal airborne, Shuttleworth has the answer.

It's chocks away this weekend at the annual Military Pageant and Air Display so there's lots to see.

But inside, if there's not an explanation with diagrams or an interactive, hands-on gadget to demonstrate how a plane gets off the ground, then there will be a real live person, probably up to his elbows in engine oil and enthusiasm, who will be more than happy to explain the ins and outs of aeronautics to you.

The Shuttleworth collection of more than 50 aircraft as well as vintage cars and carriages was originally the idea of Richard Ormonde Shuttleworth.

It was Richard's passion to tinker about with old cars and later aeroplanes, restoring them to working order. He had a very successful racing career, culminating in winning the first British Grand Prix at Donnington Park in 1935.

But his career was to be a short-lived one after crashing whilst flying for the RAF in 1940. In memory of her son, Dorothy Shuttleworth created a charitable trust to ensure that the estate would be used for aviation and agricultural education.

Tickets cost £25 and you can pay at the entrance.

Tale of love and tragedy

FILM

The Alban Arena, St Albans

Wednesday, 1.30pm and 7.30pm

ELDERLY couple Georges (Jean-Louis Trintignant) and Anne (Emmanuelle Riva) are retired music teachers enjoying life in their eighties.

However, Anne suddenly has a stroke at breakfast and their lives are never the same.

She undergoes surgery on a blocked artery, but the surgery goes wrong, leaving her paralysed on her right side and confined to a wheelchair.

That incident begins Anne's steep physical and mental decline as Georges battles to care for her at home as she wishes – she's made him promise not to send her to the hospital or the nursing home.

But even as the fruits of their lives and career remain bright, the couple's faint hopes for some dignity amidst all the suffering prove a dispiriting struggle even as their daughter (Isabelle Huppert) enters the scene and calls for Anne to be admitted into hospital.

In the end, Georges, with his love fighting against his own weariness and diminished future on top of Anne's, is driven to make some critical decisions for them both.

Amour (12A) is a 2012 French-language drama film written and directed by the Austrian filmmaker Michael Haneke, starring Jean-Louis Trintignant, Emmanuelle Riva and Isabelle Huppert.

It was screened at the 2012 Cannes Film Festival where it won the Palme d'Or.

It also won the Academy Award for Best Foreign Language Film at the 85th Academy Awards and was nominated in four other categories: Best Picture, Best Actress in a Leading Role (Emmanuelle Riva), Best Original Screenplay (Michael Haneke) and Best Director (Michael Haneke).

Tickets for Amour cost £7 and you can book by calling the box office on 01727 844488.

Or you can visit the Alban Arena online at www.alban-arena.co.uk for more information and to make an online booking.

Amphill ready to rock festival-style

AN evening of rock is heading our way.

Launching the annual three-day Amphill Festival on the evening of July 5, this year's AmpRocks will feature live performances from The Hoosiers, Toploader and local band, Skies on Fire.

AmpRocks is in its fourth year and is known for its friendly atmosphere and beautiful setting, being held in the natural amphitheatre of Amphill Park.

Jem Maidment, a member of the festival committee, said: "I think it's really important that local towns still put on festivals like AmpRocks."

"Every year more and more people come."

"This year we've sold tickets in east London, Bournemouth and Manchester."

"People really do come from all over the country."

Organisers of AmpRocks say they are committed to listening to what people want from their festival and so tickets prices are £15 per this year.

For more information or to buy tickets visit www.amphillfestival.co.uk.

SECTION 56, PLANNING ACT 2008
REGULATION 9, INFRASTRUCTURE PLANNING
(APPLICATIONS PRESCRIBED FORMS AND PROCEDURE) REGULATIONS 2009
CENTRAL BEDFORDSHIRE COUNCIL
PROPOSED CENTRAL BEDFORDSHIRE COUNCIL
(WOODSIDE LINK HOUGHTON REGIS) DEVELOPMENT CONSENT ORDER
APPLICATION REFERENCE: TR010011

NOTICE OF ACCEPTANCE OF APPLICATION FOR A DEVELOPMENT CONSENT ORDER BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE

Notice is hereby given that the Secretary of State has accepted an application by Central Bedfordshire Council ("the Council") of Priory House, Monks Walk, Chicksands, Bedfordshire SG17 5TQ for a development consent order ("DCO") under the Planning Act 2008 ("the Application"). The Application was submitted by the Council to the Secretary of State, c/o The Planning Inspectorate ("PINS"), on 14 May 2013 and was accepted on 11 June 2013. The PINS application reference number is TR010011.

Summary of the Scheme

The Council is proposing a new road linking the Woodside Industrial Estate in Houghton Regis to the planned Junction 11A of the M1 ("the Scheme"). The project involves the construction of approximately 2.90 kilometres of new road, comprising approximately 2.55 kilometres of single carriageway road and approximately 0.35 kilometres of dual carriageway. The purpose of the Link Road is to reduce traffic in Houghton Regis and Dunstable, especially heavy good vehicles accessing Woodside Industrial Estate. HGVs currently use the A5 and A505 through Dunstable town centre. The Link Road would provide an alternative route away from the town centre, effectively avoiding and reducing the current congestion in the existing urban areas.

The Application seeks a DCO authorising the construction of the new road and, amongst other things:

- the improvement and construction of approach roads;
- the construction of footways and cycleways;
- the construction of associated highway drainage, including drainage ponds;
- the provision of landscaping and environmental mitigation works;
- the diversion of public utility apparatus;
- the diversion of Houghton Brook;
- the stopping up of roads;
- the temporary stopping up and diversion of roads, and the imposition of traffic management measures, to allow construction of the Scheme;
- the compulsory acquisition of land and rights in land, and powers to occupy land temporarily, to allow the Council to carry out and maintain the Scheme;
- the imposition of speed limits.

Environmental Impact Assessment

The Scheme is "EIA development" for the purposes of the Infrastructure Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 2009. This means that it constitutes development for which Environmental Impact Assessment is required. The Council's application for a DCO is therefore accompanied by an Environmental Statement, containing the information that is required for the Secretary of State to make that assessment.

Copies of application documents

A copy of the application form and its accompanying documents, plans and maps is available for inspection free of charge from Monday 24 June 2013 until Monday 29 July 2013, at the following locations and times set out below:

It will also be made available from the above locations free of charge on a CD. Facilities will be available for copying parts of the application at a charge of 20p per A4 page, 40p per A3 page and £10 per A1 plan. They can also be provided on request made by email to myjourney@centralbedfordshire.gov.uk or by telephoning 0845 365 6146.

Responding to the application

To make a representation to the Secretary of State in respect of the Scheme (i.e. giving notice of any interest in, or objection to, the Application) you must submit it on a registration form. Detailed guidance on registering and making representations is provided by PINS in Advice Note 8.3: Putting your case to the IPC, which can be accessed online at <http://infrastructure.planningportal.gov.uk/wp-content/uploads/2012/04/Advice-note-8.3v4.pdf> and to which you are advised to have regard.

Representations should be submitted on a fully completed Planning Inspectorate Registration and Relevant Representation form. You should include a summary of the points you wish to make about the application, covering what you consider to be the main issues, what you agree with or disagree with in the Application and why, and what you consider the impacts will be.

The Planning Inspectorate Registration and Relevant Representation form will be made available by PINS on the relevant page for this Scheme, accessible via PINS' website – see: <http://infrastructure.planningportal.gov.uk/projects/eastern/woodside-connection-houghton-regis-bedfordshire/>. Alternatively you can request a hard copy of the form by telephoning 0303 444 5000 and by quoting the name of the Scheme. Any hard copy form to be submitted to PINS should be sent to The Planning Inspectorate, National Infrastructure Directorate, Temple Quay House, Temple Quay, Bristol BS1 6PN. The PINS reference number (TR010011) should be quoted in any correspondence.

Any representation must be received by PINS no later than 23:59 on Monday 29 July 2013. Please note that representations will be made public.

REN WILL I BE FAMOUS?

Renault has shown just how much can be achieved with its Renaultsport brand over recent years.

The marque has risen from performance car mediocrity to offer a whole series of the most respected and sought-after hot hatchbacks around.

The Clio Renaultsport 200 continues that tradition with the same thorough approach to extracting optimum handling and performance that has yielded success for Renaultsport products past. More power is rarely a bad place for a hot hatchback to start. With the Clio Renaultsport 200, the increase is only 3bhp over the Clio Renaultsport 197 but it's a clear indicator for the market that progress has been made, even if more significant changes lie elsewhere.

The 2.0-litre 16-valve petrol engine does without the assistance of a turbocharger, which is becoming more unusual amongst this fast Clio's rivals. It means that the car produces its best higher in the rev range. Maximum torque of 215Nm is available at 5,400rpm (100rpm lower than the Renaultsport 197 version) and peak power is generated at a heady 7,100rpm. The 0-60mph sprint is covered in 6.9s, the same as a Golf GTI and the top speed is 141mph.

Hot hatchbacks need a soupcon of aggression in their styling to let the world know what they're all about and the Renaultsport 200 has a bigger snarl on than most. It inherits the basic look for the Clio supermini following its 2009 facelift, but big intakes, lower bumpers and side sills underline the fact that this isn't your everyday shopping hatch.

The front end is defined by the dramatically contoured bumper that looks as though someone has taken a wedge out of it with a giant axe. At the back, a sharply contoured splitter frames the twin exhaust pipes.

The Clio Renaultsport 200 certainly looks the part and it has the credentials to deliver the goods on the road too.

The high revving normally-aspirated engine does fall down when it comes to economy and emissions but hot hatch fans will be inclined to shoulder those costs in exchange for this Clio's rare talents.

CRICKET

Staffs dig in to deny first victory

BEDFORDSHIRE had to settle for a second consecutive draw in the Minor Counties Championship Eastern Division after Staffordshire recovered from a first innings collapse with a marathon batting spell.

Jamie Hewitt's Beds made an excellent start at Luton Town and Indians by skittling out Staffs for just 101, with Zashan Arshad claiming 6-51 with the ball.

In reply Luke Thomas made 125 and opener James Kettleborough 65 as Beds reached 354-7 from their 90 overs, but Staffordshire then dug in to leave their hosts frustrated, reaching a massive 571-4 declared.

The bulk of the damage was done by Tim Maxfield, who was eventually run out for 221, while Peter Wilshaw made 138.

Now 318 runs behind, Beds slipped to 10-3 in their second innings, but a knock of 68 from Arshad steadied the ship and they finished on 116-4 for the draw.

Bedfordshire are fifth in the table after their first game in the three day format, against Buckinghamshire, was also a draw.

Their next match is the long trip to Jesmond to face Northumberland, starting next Sunday.

ATHLETICS

Games set to be held once more

THE Bedfordshire Games will take place again on Tuesday, for athletes with learning and physical disabilities from across the county, including those from Luton and Dunstable.

A number of track and field events will be held at the International Stadium in Bedford, with a 10am start.

Gold, silver and bronze medals are up for grabs and dignitaries attending include Lord Lieutenant of Bedfordshire Helen Nelis and various town mayors.

The event, which attracts more than 300 competitors, is entirely self funded and relies on donations to take place.

This year, Bedford Masons, Bedford Lions, Mencap and the Bedford Borough Ward Fund have all contributed.

Members of the public are welcome to watch the events.

GOLF

Golfer gets watch after hole in one

A LUTON golfer has been awarded with a limited edition watch after striking a hole in one.

Thirty-four-year-old Jason Kearns bagged the ace on the 105-yard, par three 12th hole at his home course – the town's South Beds golf club.

His prize for doing so was the specially commissioned commemorative time-piece from German company BOSS.

The firm has pledged to reward club golfers with an exclusive watch for every hole-in-one recorded during a club competition.

Paul's mental edge

NEW BOOK: Paul McVeigh believes football needs to embrace mental preparation

FOOTBALL

BY MARC BAZELEY
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

LEGENDARY New York Yankees catcher Yogi Berra was once quoted as saying: "Baseball is ninety percent mental and the other half is physical."

Although humorous, there is a truth in there which is the importance of the psychological side of top level sport cannot be underestimated.

There are few greater advocates of that than former Luton Town striker Paul McVeigh. He is determined to change the attitude in football towards sports psychology, and hopes his new book, 'The Stupid Footballer is Dead', will go some way towards doing that.

The book, which comes out on Thursday, has met with positive reviews from national newspaper journalists such as Paddy Barclay, Henry Winter and Glenn Moore.

While other books on the subject have been written from sports psychologists with a theoretical background, McVeigh's account differs because he understands what it is like to apply those ideas when out on the pitch from his 14-year career at club and international level.

The 35-year-old's ideas have found acceptance at former club Norwich City where him and his company, ThinkPRO, work with the Canaries youngsters who beat Chelsea in last season's FA Youth Cup final. He believes the rest of football needs to show the same interest as well.

"It's not quite accurate to say football isn't open to new ideas," said McVeigh. "We've seen the way football has embraced sports science in areas like the pre-match warm-ups, which changed so much from when I first started to my last season."

"In 2010 we were having ice baths after games as part of our recovery, but if you had asked me what that was when I was younger, I wouldn't have had a clue."

"There is a lot more focus on what you eat, your preparation, your recovery and your fitness, but those are all things on the physical side."

"Every club now has analysts looking at videos and picking apart every aspect of the game, but not the psychological side."

The psychological part of football is something McVeigh has had an interest in since 1995, when a family friend gave him a copy of the Tony Robbins book 'Awaken the Giant Within' when he was a 17-year-old youth team player at Tottenham Hotspur.

Although admitting he had never considered the mental aspect before then, McVeigh devoured the wisdom contained within those pages, using the structured approach suggested to set himself goals. Around the same time, professional golfers were becoming some of the first sportspeople to work with sports psychologists, but the young McVeigh had no-one at Spurs he could approach.

He recalls how there were just two coaches and one physio looking after the apprentice

Tottenham players, and having to make the two-hour drive from Enfield to Roehampton University, where club fitness coach Kunle Odetoyinbo recommended one of his former lecturers to McVeigh, every time he wanted to speak to someone.

Despite being released by Spurs - 'The 5'6" player was told he was "too small" by manager George Graham - McVeigh went on to enjoy a successful career which took in two spells with Norwich, a loan at Burnley and two years with Luton, as well as 20 international appearances for Northern Ireland.

That time at Kenilworth Road, from 2007 to 2009, coincided with one of the most turbulent periods in the Hatters' history as the club were hit with a ten and then 30 points deduction, as well as suffering a double-relegation.

Few players go through what McVeigh and his team-mates did in an entire career, let alone such a relatively short space of time. But he is in no doubt he would have found it much harder to face those challenges had he not done so much psychological work earlier in his career.

"I made the decision to only worry about the things I can control," said McVeigh.

"You can worry about things like am I going to get paid? Will I be sold? Will the club go out of business? It can make you down and depressed, but you can't control those things."

"What I could control was how I trained, how I prepared and how I played, and lads were still turning up to training with a smile on their faces. You've still got to be professional and it's amazing how a group of players can turn a bad situation into something to smile about."

McVeigh believes the togetherness forged in the squad during that period is a big factor in Luton winning the 2009 Johnstone's Paint Trophy, although a further personal blow was him being left out of the team for the final.

His career ended on a high, helping Norwich win the League One title in 2010.

McVeigh is now giving today's fledgling professionals the opportunities he did not have to tap into sports psychology.

But while football has moved on in many regards, he is disappointed to see how slow it has been to accept the role of mental preparation in the way sports such as golf and cycling have.

"It is a challenge to go and change the culture," said McVeigh. "Players have this culture where you don't go and do anything extra because you don't want to appear to be like the classroom pet."

"Unfortunately, if you do the bare minimum then you end up getting released and that's a trap players can fall into. You have to do more than is asked of you if you want to achieve anything."

"Other sports have this culture of excellence and peak performance. You only have to look at cycling for the progress they have made. It is imperative football changes because it is such big business now."

One more signing soon says Hatters boss Still

sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

HATTERS boss John Still is close to adding another player to his ranks as he prepares for his first full season in the Luton Town hot-seat.

Still has already overseen much business this summer but another new arrival is close as he plots promotion to the Football League.

"Sooner rather than later we hope to have another player in," said Still.

"He's one who can help us, so hopefully it'll be in the next week or so."

Danny Fitzsimons, Jim Stevenson, Shaun Whalley, Andrew Parry, Elliot Justham, Mark Cullen and Anthony Charles have been the signings Still has made so far, and he is happy with the blend of players he has brought into the club.

"We were going for a mix of youth and experience," he said.

"I'm very happy with what we've got and we didn't really miss out on any players we wanted either."

The Luton squad are due to return for pre-season training on Monday and Still added that this could be the time when players start to depart the club as well.

Striker Scott Rendell, keeper Dean Brill, midfielder Arnaud Mendy and defenders Lathaniel Rowe-Turner and Simon Ainge have all been told that they are surplus to requirements following Still's arrival at the club in place of Paul Buckle, with some of those expected to depart shortly. "When pre-season training starts is usually when you start to see a bit of movement," said Still.

"So I would expect some movement on that in the next couple of weeks."

Still has been spending some time in Portugal on holiday but is confident his players will return to pre-season duties in decent shape.

The boss also said that he is not overawed about being at the helm of a club with Luton's expectations.

More than 4,000 season tickets have been sold at Kenilworth Road already – a superb achievement for the Blue Square Bet Premier which only serves to highlight how big a club Luton are for the fifth tier of English football.

"I don't go with pressure really," said Still.

"Luton is a good club and there's a good fabric, and we're passionate about promotion."

"If you're Manchester United, you don't want to have the mindset that you'll get beat every single week.

"It's important to have expectations, for myself, the players, and for the supporters as well."

Meanwhile, the Hatters U18 squad have already returned to training and big things are expected of the young crop of players.

"We're expecting to finish in the top two of the Youth Alliance – third at absolute worst," said manager Paul Driver. "We've outlined to the players the targets. We certainly want to reach the third round of the FA Youth Cup and the knock-out stages of the League Cup."

"The second year scholars all have bags of experience. Almost all of them have played for the development squad."

"It's a stronger squad this year and, on paper, it's the strongest squad I've ever had."

"With the strength we have this year it should allow us to win it, or be right up there."

"It's a lot different from last year. We now have the strength in the depth and a number of the first years who were under-16s last year have already had experience of under-18s football."

"Last season I would have taken a top seven finish. If you had offered me a top three finish this time last year I would have bitten your hand off."
